English Department Mission Statement

The English Department offers a variety of interrelated areas of study in a broad range of liberal arts and professional programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The mission of the Department is to help students as readers, writers, and thinkers at all levels of study to appreciate the nuances of and connections among texts (literary, rhetorical, visual, etc.), and to use written and oral language to participate effectively in a wide range of academic, aesthetic, and professional contexts. The Department's programs prepare students for productive lives as critical thinkers, informed citizens, and ethical leaders.

The English Department pursues the ideal of a socially conscious education. It aims to scrutinize preconceptions about race, gender, ethnicity, class, age, and sexual orientation. It values critical literacy and communication as resources for democracy, resources that invest citizens with the cognitive skills needed to analyze and critique those forms of language which work for and against the ideals of community, cooperation, justice, and equality.

We strive to achieve these goals via high quality teaching that reflects innovations of thought and scholarship, that uses current technologies to facilitate learning, and that responds to the cultural diversity of the student body. By maintaining state, regional, and national accreditation, we ensure that our majors are prepared to enter their chosen professions or pursue further study in their chosen fields.

Dear English Major:

Welcome to West Chester University's Department of English. Our faculty and staff look forward to making your undergraduate years as enjoyable, self-fulfilling, and productive as possible. As the University's largest Department, we offer a variety of programs to enrich your academic experience here and to prepare you for your careers after graduation.

This manual is designed to give you information about major requirements, as well as information on all of the special experiences the English Department makes available to you. Our majors are supplemented by minors in African/African American Literature, Business and Technical Writing, Creative Writing, Film Criticism, Journalism, Linguistics, and Literature. We encourage all of our majors in the Bachelor of Arts program to do an internship, which provides valuable experience in publishing, journalism, business, public relations, and other professions.

If you have further questions about our programs, please contact your Departmental advisor, who can probably answer most of your questions—or who will know where the answers can be found. In your first semester with us, you will be assigned an advisor who will provide you with academic guidance throughout your undergraduate program. You must meet with your advisor at least once per semester in order to schedule courses for the following semester. Meeting with your advisor will also insure that you are following all Department and University requirements. But advisors are not only repositories of “official” information; they are resources for information about University life in general. Advising is ultimately a shared responsibility between advisor and advisee, so it is important that you be proactive about understanding and meeting your degree requirements.

Please also make sure you consult regularly our online English Majors' Forum, a Desire 2 Learn (D2L) site. (We enroll all of our majors in this Forum, and if, for any reason, you are not enrolled, please contact our department secretary at Ext. 2822.) Use the Forum to learn about campus events, to refresh your knowledge of Department policies and opportunities, to take part in discussions about program and other issues, and to keep in touch with other English majors. If you need a reminder on University policies, please consult your Ram's Eye View or catalog (either online or in hard copy). Lastly, should you need more assistance, don't hesitate to email me at ENGLISH-DEPT@wcupa.edu or call 610-436-2822.

Welcome! I look forward to working with you and our faculty to help you succeed in your academic career as an English major.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jen Bacon
Chairperson, Department of English

PURPOSES OF THIS MANUAL

This manual is intended to help students in the English Department understand their programs, to know about the available options in courses and activities, to be able to plan their progression through their degree programs, and to help them think about possible careers. It is not intended to be a substitute for advising.

You need to know that requirements do change, as a result of state actions and those of accrediting bodies, and we are not able to reprint this manual every time a change is made. From time to time, there may be changes to degree requirements that are clarified for us after the printing of a particular year's Handbook. We will always keep you informed of such changes via our department's English major mailing list and the English Majors' Forum (housed on D2L). The authoritative degree requirements will be those in the University catalog. You can always consult the most current version of the catalog online from WCU's homepage. Your advisor is also a great source for updated information. Find information and ask questions; it is your responsibility to stay informed. The online undergraduate catalog has two relevant sections on requirements:

- Academic Policies:
<http://www.wcupa.edu/information/official.documents/undergrad.catalog/acpolpro.htm>
- Degree Requirements:
<http://www.wcupa.edu/information/official.documents/undergrad.catalog/degreqt.html>

All new students must choose their distributive general education classes from an approved list. You will find this list on the last page of this handbook.

The Department of English offers two degree programs: the B.A. English and the B.S.Ed. in English. All WCU degrees require completion of a minimum of 120 credits. Effective Fall 2009, the program was revised in response to Chapter 49 mandates from the PA Department of Education; as a result, the B.S.Ed. in English requires 123 credits for completion.

All of our coursework benefits students interested in exploring literature and language and in pursuing careers in teaching; in law; in journalism; in public relations and advertising; in creative, technical, and business writing; and in other professions, including management and marketing, which rely on communication skills.

Degree Progress Report (DPR) on MyWCU and University email:

While the DPR does a good job tracking your completion of general education requirements, it cannot track everything in your major degree program. Thus, the information about your major in this manual overrides the DPR. Double-check what the DPR is showing against your advising sheets. If a question arises about a conflict between the DPR and your program as mapped onto our advising sheets, the advising sheets will be considered correct.

The English Department and the university communicate with students via WCU student email accounts. Please check yours regularly!

The DPR is NOT a substitute for your advising sheets!

DEPARTMENTAL ADVISING

Advising is a dynamic developmental process, not simply a way of making it through WCU's various program procedures. You should think of your advisor as someone who is knowledgeable about our programs, who can direct you to campus resources, and who has experience with the world outside the university; your advisor can help you make important decisions here that will affect your future.

All students at WCU are assigned an academic advisor to help guide them through their undergraduate careers. As an English major, you'll meet with your advisor at least once a semester to evaluate your academic status, plan your schedule for the following term, have your enrollment hold lifted, and discuss any other issues relevant to your academic career. Working closely with your academic advisor will help ensure that you are making progress towards your degree and that your course selections are in line with your educational and professional goals.

KNOW YOUR DEGREE.

Ultimately, it is your responsibility to know, understand, and fulfill all degree requirements.

However, while your advisor will offer direction, make recommendations, and answer any questions you may have about the program, ultimately you are responsible for:

- understanding and keeping abreast of the program requirements you must complete;
- checking MyWCU to find your enrollment appointment (that is, your registration date) for scheduling your next semester's courses;
- signing up to meet with your advisor in advance of your enrollment appointment so that you will be able to register for classes when your date and time to schedule occurs;
- conferring with your advisor regularly (and especially when any question arises); and
- maintaining accurate records to ensure that you are meeting the mandated requirements, including the completion of 120 credits, for graduation.

Please consult MyWCU to identify your English Department advisor. The Department Program Coordinator, Mary Clark, Main 506, 610.436.1007, mclark@wcupa.edu, is also available for questions.

Why meet with your advisor?

- To ensure timely progress towards your degree.
- To become better acquainted with the program and with a faculty member.
- To lift the electronic advising block so that you can schedule your classes.
- To discuss which courses you should take and the order in which you should take them.
- To answer your questions about specific program requirements, such as the Test of Writing Competency or Portfolio for B.S.Ed. students.
- To learn about the rich array of careers available to majors, graduate school, and other opportunities after graduation.
- To discuss your progress and performance, including any difficulties you may be having in your academic program.
- To learn about resources on campus that can help you with academic or personal problems.
- To obtain information about minors or other academic and extracurricular opportunities.
- To learn about completing assessment instruments for your program.
- To discuss readiness for graduation.

In addition to pre-scheduling sessions, your advisor will be available to meet with you throughout the semester to discuss any number of issues, including adding, dropping, or withdrawing from a course; career objectives; preparation for graduate study; and internships and employment opportunities. We encourage students early in their degree progress to become familiar with the counselors and resources available at the Twardowski Career Development Center (Lawrence 106). Students who believe they need additional career advisement can also consult advisors of department disciplines—specialists in education, literature, journalism, business communications, technical writing, and creative writing—to discuss graduate school options and professional opportunities. Throughout the academic year the department offers workshops on career possibilities, preparation, and graduate school.

Advisors are typically not available on weekends, holidays, or over summer break. Please plan accordingly.

Secondary Education advising

While your Departmental advisor is your primary advisor, B.S.Ed. students will also be assigned a Professional/Secondary Education advisor. The Department of Professional and Secondary Education (Recitation Hall 105) will assign your Prof/Sec advisor once FATE is attained, and this advisor will help you with the sequence and content of education courses, test requirements, and field experience information. You can find your advisor's name in MyWCU.

Procedure for scheduling

1. Pay any University bills because you cannot schedule if you have unpaid bills, parking tickets, health center charges, late library books, etc.
2. Sign up for an office meeting with your assigned advisor via the advisor's preferred method (appointment schedule on office door, online scheduling, or email). You should arrange to meet with your advisor at least 10 days before your registration date, called "appointment date" on MyWCU. Dates are assigned based, in part, on the number of credits you have earned; you can find your advisor name and enrollment appointment date easily by simply logging into your MyWCU account.
3. You should come to your advising appointment with a list of courses, based on the offerings for that semester, that you would like to take and any questions you may have about offerings, your progress in the program, or career directions.
4. Your assigned advisor must clear you electronically before you can schedule on MyWCU. Please do not phone or e-mail requesting that your advising flag be lifted when you have not completed the required advising session.
5. Your advisor will not lift your advising flag to allow you to schedule without a meeting to discuss your plans.
6. To avoid having your schedule purged by the Registrar, pay your bill promptly. If your schedule is purged, you may not be able to reconstruct it. In most cases, the Department will not be able to add you back into classes that have filled, if you have lost your seat in a class due to purging, and another student has added into that class.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS IN ENGLISH

The undergraduate program in English at WCU is designed to help students become sophisticated readers, writers, thinkers, and speakers capable of interpreting and creating texts in all of their complex forms. Our majors learn to engage in nuanced critical thinking; conduct meaningful research; craft persuasive arguments; and express their ideas with style, clarity, and confidence. We invite you to use the links on the English Department website to learn more about undergraduate studies in English.

The English Department offers two undergraduate degrees:

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.)

This degree focuses on the study of language; reading, analysis, and critical interpretation; intensive instruction in writing; English, American, and World literatures; and literary, rhetorical, and critical theory. The B.A. also requires students to study a foreign language through the 202 level.

The Bachelor of Science in English Education (B.S.Ed.)

This degree, accredited by NCATE, prepares students to become certified middle- and high-school English teachers. Students must complete content-related and pedagogical courses and satisfy degree requirements from the English Department and the Department of Professional and Secondary Education, as well as certification requirements from the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Tracks

Within each of the above two degree programs, students choose one of the following two tracks, depending on their interests:

Literatures Track

This track provides focused, in-depth study of literary and cultural texts across a diverse range of genres, historical periods, and cultural traditions; it also offers intensive instruction in critical writing. This track of the English major focuses on the study of literature in its many complex genres (poetry, fiction, drama, film, graphic novels, digital literature, and more), historical periods (from the ancient world to the twenty-first century), and cultural traditions (U.S., British, Multi-Ethnic, World, and Comparative). Our students read and interpret literature for the urgent questions it raises about identity, ethics, justice, race, gender, nationality, sexuality, and humanity, even as they develop concrete career skills in writing, research, critical analysis, information literacy, and oral communication.

Writings Track

The Writings Track emphasizes both the theory and practice of writing, and provides in-depth knowledge in all kinds of writing: nonfiction argument, technical writing, and the writing of poetry and fiction. Students will discover how our language conditions everything in our culture, from advertising and politics to electronic communication and creative writing. Students will also become better writers; better teachers of writing; more informed readers of the discourses that surround us; and more creative users of the written language, whatever genre or field they approach.

A Common Core for All Majors

While each track has its own specific courses and requirements, the English major as a whole ensures cohesion by requiring all students to complete a common Core sequence, take at least two "crossover" courses in their non-primary track, and choose from a shared pool of ENG 400 research seminars. Both tracks prepare students for a number of careers.

In addition to the 48 General Education credits, students must fulfill the major requirements of the English Department. A map of a typical program sequence can be found in the Undergraduate Catalog. Requirements for the B.S.Ed. degree are especially constrained, so students in this program need to pay special attention to their program sequence. The B.A degree requires a minimum of 120 credits; the B.S.Ed. degree requires 123 credits. You cannot graduate without this number of credits.

WCU degrees require a minimum of 120 credits; our B.S.Ed. requires 123 credits. You cannot graduate without this number of credits.

ENGLISH B.A. PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Foreign Language Requirement for B.A. English majors:

Candidates for the B.A. in Literature will take 0-12 credit hours, depending on their language proficiency when they enter the program. The benefits of this requirement are many, but among the most important is what learning a foreign language teaches students about English as a language and about the intricate relationship between language and culture.

Students planning to take French, German or Spanish should take the placement test online at <http://www.wcupa.edu/arts-humanities/languagesCultures/placement.asp>. Follow all information on that page for signr in information, password, language choice, and email instructions. Students planning to take Chinese, Italian, Latin, or Russian should go to the Language Learning Center (Mitchell 006) to take the placement test. Classical Greek and Hebrew, Japanese, and American Sign Language also satisfy the language requirement. Please note that you cannot earn credit through the placement test!

For additional information, please see the Languages and Cultures Requirements website at: http://catalog.wcupa.edu/undergraduate/generalr_educationr_requirements/languager_andr_culture/.

B.A. students must complete a foreign language through the intermediate level (typically numbered “202”). Students with extensive prior foreign language experience should not register for a 100r level language course; those placing out of lowerr level classes may replace those credits with electives. The English Department does not offer the culture cluster option; however, if a student has a documented disability, he/she may be work with the OSSD office to secure an approved alternative to the Foreign Language requirement.

Students whose placement scores indicate that they need to take FOUR language classes to obtain the 202 level will need to use ONE of their Gen Ed electives in order to do this.

Minor/Concentration/Department electives for B.A. English majors

This 18-credit section means that there are three ways to complete this section of your program. The DPR cannot track all variations of this section of your program, so you must use your advising sheets.

1. Formal minor. A formal minor is an approved program of study in the English or some other department that will show up on your transcript – for example, Business & Technical Writing in English, or Art History, or Physics, or interdisciplinary minors such as International Business or Women’s & Gender Studies. Each comprises 18 credits, so you can use this section of your program to get a formal minor. See the full list of WCU minor programs at the Undergraduate catalog.

The English Department offers seven minors: see page 36 and the English Dept. website <http://www.wcupa.edu/arts-humanities/english/default.aspx>.

2. Concentration. Sometimes you want to study in an area for which WCU may not have a formal minor – for example, Sustainability or Caribbean Studies. In collaboration with your advisor, you can design a structured, 18-credit concentration. This concentration must have a clear intellectual foundation, and your advisor should list your plans, including course numbers, in an advising note on MyWCU. You may not use the concentration section as a location for random electives and classes that don’t fit anywhere else: the concentration must cohere. If there is a formal minor already established in your proposed concentration area, you must do the formal minor. You must declare your concentration while you still have classes to take to complete it (no concentrations created at graduation time, no concentrations made of all transfer classes).

3. English Department electives. Don’t want a formal minor or to design a concentration? Fill this section with 18 credits of any English department majors’ classes (no gen ed classes count in this section – no LIT100, LIT165, CLS165, or WRTs).

AVOID OVERLAPS!
With the exception of one overlapping course, courses used to fulfill requirements in this 18-credit section cannot also be used to fulfill a track major requirement. The DPR does not catch this!

For more details, please see the English Department website:

<http://www.wcupa.edu/arts-humanities/english/default.aspx>.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT B.A. PROGRAM ASSESSMENTS

The English department collects data to see how well our programs are delivering what we want them to teach. B.A. and B.S.Ed. students have different portfolio assignments, but all English majors MUST participate in the multiple-choice disciplinary literacy instrument and the Majors' Exit Survey.

What You Need to Know

As part of its ongoing commitment to a high quality undergraduate English major, the WCU English Department has developed three means of obtaining feedback about the program and how it helps students: 1) a multiple-choice disciplinary literacy instrument, 2) an exit survey and 3) a student portfolio.

The multiple-choice instrument and exit survey are to be completed by all B.A. and B.S.Ed. English majors; however, the portfolio described below is to be filed only by B.A. students.

1) The Multiple-Choice Disciplinary Literacy Instrument:

All graduating English majors will complete the Multiple Choice Instrument. This instrument is used to assess the department's performance in achieving its undergraduate program goals. It is available on the English Majors' Forum site on D2L. You should complete the instrument during your final year at WCU; please allow 25 to 30 minutes to complete.

2) The English Majors' Exit Survey:

All graduating English majors are requested to fill out an exit survey in their senior year. The survey asks you about the quality of your education here and your satisfaction with the program. The survey is an opportunity to let us know how satisfied you are with the program and how we might improve it. The Exit Survey will be available on D2L every September; all graduating students must complete this survey!

3) The B.A. in English Portfolio:

Undergraduate English majors pursuing the B.A. in English, both tracks, are required to compile and submit a portfolio of writing done for their classes (this requirement includes transfer students; papers must have been written for WCU English courses). You can submit your portfolio, with the checklist, electronically via the Dropbox found in the English Majors' Forum site on D2L or deliver the portfolio to Dr. Randall Cream, the Assessment Coordinator (Main 520).

Your portfolio will contain two essays/writing projects that you consider being the best examples of work completed in undergraduate English courses.

Be sure to review the papers required for the B.A. English portfolio now to ensure that you will have them when it comes time for you to assemble and submit your portfolio. You should retain clean, ungraded copies of the needed essays. (Do not rely on faculty to hold on to these papers for you.)

The portfolio must include the clean, unmarked, ungraded copies of the following:

- an ENG400 seminar paper,
- another research paper written for an English course (2,500-3,000 words; can be another ENG 400 paper) of which you feel most proud,
- a checklist and introduction.

Students should select papers/writing projects that successfully demonstrate the ability to write analytically, critically, and knowledgeably about a given topic and the ability to craft grammatically sound, well-organized, and stylistically competent prose. Items selected must be submitted as clean copies without any instructor's comments or grades. Students may revise the writing chosen as deemed necessary prior to submission of the final portfolio.

Finally, each portfolio will include a checklist that identifies each item presented (the checklist is available on page XX and on D2L) as well as an introduction (essay or letter). The introduction (2-3 pages typed, double-spaced) will address each item in the portfolio and must explain the context (assignment's expectations, instructions) for each piece as well as your understanding of how the items included represent what you have gained from the major. In addition, please reflect on your skill in finding, assessing, and incorporating outside sources and critical voices in your work. Finally, you are also encouraged to reflect more generally on the quality of your educational experience in the B.A. in English at WCU.

How will the portfolio scores be used?

The portfolio is one of the three assessment tools the English Department will be using to gauge the effectiveness of our B.A. program in English. Though you will submit the portfolio under your name, scores will be recorded without it, and those scores will be examined ONLY by assessment personnel in aggregate with the scores of other portfolios and ONLY for this single purpose of program assessment. You can be confident that the information garnered from the portfolio will otherwise be kept confidential.

The score on the portfolio will not affect any grades. Unlike the portfolio required by the B.S. Ed. program, the B.A. in English portfolio will not function as a test of your abilities that you must pass in order to complete the program. Although submission is required, the portfolio is for program assessment purposes only.

Submission of the BA Portfolio

- Online: Log in to D2L to the English Majors Forum. Click on Dropbox on the top menu bar. Follow instructions for submission.

Graduating B.A. students should submit their portfolios to Dr. Cream or to the D2L dropbox on the English Majors' Forum by the end of finals week in their last semester.

B.A. English Majors' Portfolio
Include this Checklist with Your Portfolio

Instructions: Please fill out this sheet completely and return it with your portfolio before the end of your last semester at WCU. Your portfolio should contain two essays/writing projects that you consider the best examples of your work completed in undergraduate English courses. Selected items must include the following: (1) one ENG 400 seminar paper and (2) one other English department research paper (2,500-3,000 words; can be another ENG 400) of which you feel most proud. Items selected must be submitted as clean copies without any instructor's comments or grades. Students may revise the writing chosen as deemed necessary prior to submission of the final portfolio. Finally, each portfolio will include both this checklist that identifies each item and an introduction (essay or letter). The introduction (3-4 pages typed, double-spaced) will discuss each item in the portfolio. You should explain the context (assignment's expectations, instructions) for each piece and your understanding of how the item represents what you have gained from the major. In addition, please reflect on your skill in finding, assessing, and incorporating outside sources and critical voices in your work. Finally, you are also encouraged to reflect more generally on the quality of your educational experience in the B.A. in English at WCU.

- Online: Log in to D2L to the English Majors Forum. Click on Dropbox on the top menu bar. Follow instructions for submission.
- Hard copy: Place clean hard copies of the all documents in a folder. Write on the outside of the folder your name, track in the major (WRT/LIT), semester and year of graduation. Submit folder to Dr. Randall Cream, Main 520.

TAKE YOUR ADVISING QUIZ!

Test your knowledge of how well you know your program by taking the quiz below that asks you about general education and the one that corresponds to your major. Answers can be found in the English Majors' Forum!

General Education & General Advising

1. Who is the primary steward of a student's academic career? What is the role of an English department advisor?
2. Why can't an interdisciplinary class count as one of your gen ed distributive area classes?
3. Does a creative writing seminar count as ENG400, the research seminar?
4. What should you do if you want to take classes at a community college and have them count at WCU?
5. What happens when you apply for graduation?
6. What is the minimum number of credits needed to graduate, by state mandate?

B.A. English (Writings & Literatures)

1. What is the difference between a minor and a concentration?
2. If you want to declare a minor, what should you do?
3. How many courses can you "double-dip" between an English major and an English minor? (I.e., how many classes can you use to satisfy the requirements of both programs?)

5. What level of foreign language must you achieve?

ENGLISH B.S.Ed. PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS TEACHER EDUCATION POLICIES

For students pursuing the B.S.Ed. and Post-Baccalaureate Certification in English Secondary Education

This section provides B.S.Ed. students or prospective students with some information on admission to the teacher education program, student teaching prerequisites for Pennsylvania secondary schools, and the Praxis II exams. The requirements derive from directives from our accrediting bodies: the National Council of Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), NCTE (National Council of Teachers of English), and the Pennsylvania Department of Education (PDE). Students in our program benefit by earning a degree approved by these accrediting bodies; most school districts look for such degrees.

You can find extensive information about tests, certification, etc., on the College of Education's site for students and on the English Majors Forum on D2L.

Policy for Formal Admission (F.A.T.E.) to the B.S.Ed. program

All students seeking a teacher education degree or certification must apply for Formal Admission to Teacher Education. In order to complete the degree in eight semesters of full-time study, students should apply for formal admission sometime in their sophomore year. For FATE, students must:

1. Complete 48 credits of college-level coursework.
2. Pass the Test of Writing Competency administered by the Department of English. For details, please see the section of this handbook outlining procedures for this test.
3. Achieve a minimum GPA of 2.8.
4. Pass the Pre-service Academic Performance Assessment tests (PAPA) in reading, writing, and math. Passing scores are defined on the College of Education's website, at <http://wcupa.edu/academics/coed/praxisl.asp>. You may be exempt from PAPAs if your SATs or ACTs are above a certain score: see <http://www.wcupa.edu/academics/coed/studentinfo/fateundergrad.asp>.
5. Have 3 credits in college-level English composition, 3 credits in literature, and 6 credits in math.
6. Complete College of Ed's application for FATE and English Dept's FATE II form (see page 30).

No student may take
EDS306, ENG390,
ENG392, or student
teach without FATE.

Clearances

B.S.Ed. English students must have criminal background, child abuse, fingerprinting, and TB clearances for: EDP250, EDA304, ENG390, ENG392, EDS306, EDS411, EDS412.

If you do not have current clearances, you will be removed from these classes at the beginning of the term. To keep up-to-date with current procedures for clearances, please visit the College of Education's clearances page.

Student Teaching prerequisites

To student teach, you must attend the mandatory student teaching meeting two semesters before you plan to student teach. Please look for details about your student teaching (school assignment policies, expectations, etc.) in your Student Teaching Handbook. See the English B.S.Ed. Coordinator (Main Hall 500) for this Handbook. In addition, you must:

1. Pass the Writing Portfolio requirement administered by the Department of English in order to student teach. Please see separate section for procedures/requirements.

2. Attain a “C” or higher in selected classes. See the WCU catalogue under the English Department’s Student Teaching Pre-requisites to review the current list of courses that require a “C” or higher. In 2013, these courses are:

EDF 300	LIT 398
EDP 250	CLS 260, 261, 361, 362, or 367
EDS 306	ENG 194, 230, 295, 296 (or LIT 206), 331, 390, and 392
LAN/ENG 382	WRT 120, 200 or 204, 205, 206, 208, or 220

If you receive a C- or lower, you should retake the course immediately before attempting more advanced courses in English or education. Students having difficulty with several of the courses listed above should recognize that they may not meet the competency requirements for student teaching and should consider withdrawing from the B.S.Ed. program.

3. Complete all coursework (including NGs) before student teaching. Additional coursework or incomplete work will not be permitted during or after student teaching.

4. Attain a “minimum cumulative GPA” of 2.8 for all courses listed on your official transcript. However, mathematically, a GPA of 2.9 for 110 credits is required before student teaching to reach the 3.0 GPA required by the PA Dept. of Education for teacher certification, assuming a grade of A is earned for both sessions of student teaching, EDS 411 and 412. This formula changes depending on the number of credits accumulated. No one will be approved to student teach with a GPA below 2.8. To graduate with the B.S.Ed. degree, students must have achieved a minimum GPA of 3.0 at the end of their programs.

Students must complete all coursework (including NGs) before student teaching.

Praxis II requirement

All B.S.Ed. and certification students must attempt the Praxis II exam (English Language Arts: Content Knowledge, ETS #5038) before their student teaching semester. Students must pass this exam before receiving their degrees or certification from WCU and being certified by the state of Pennsylvania. Passing scores are defined on the College of Education’s website, at <http://wcupa.edu/academics/coed/praxisII.asp>.

Field course sequence

In order for field experience hours to build logically through levels, students must take these courses in this order:

- Level 1 - EDP 250
- Level 2 - EDA 304
- Level 3 - EDS 306 (requires FATE)
- Level 3 - ENG 390 and 392 (pre-requisites: EDS306 & FATE)
- Level 4 - EDS 411-412 – Student Teaching (pre-requisites: all Level 3 courses)

B.S.Ed. PROGRAM PROGRESSION

General overview ONLY – please see other sections of this manual for more detail & requirements.

YEAR 1

- ❖ Gen Ed
- ❖ English core: ENG194, ENG295, & ENG296 or Lit206

YEAR 4

- ❖ Eng390 or Eng392 – after FATE & EDS306
- ❖ 2nd Eng400
- ❖ Remaining English and education classes
- ❖ Pass Praxis II test. You must take this test before your first day of student teaching. You must pass this test to graduate with your B.S.Ed.
- ❖ Final semester: Student teaching, EDS411 and 412. All course work & NGs must be completed before this!

TEST OF WRITING COMPETENCY & PORTFOLIOS REQUIREMENTS & PROCEDURES For B.S.Ed. and Teacher Certification in English

This document will explain the requirements for the Test of Writing Competency and the Writing Portfolio. These are required only for students in the B.S.Ed. program and for students pursuing PA certification. Students must pass the Test of Writing Competency in order to gain Formal Admission to the Teacher Education Program (FATE) in English. Students with FATE must pass the Writing Portfolio requirement to student teach.

TEST OF WRITING COMPETENCY

All B.S.Ed. students must pass the Test of Writing Competency to be formally admitted to our teacher education program. The Test is given once each fall and spring semester; test dates and location are posted in the Department of English, with advisors, and on our D2L site. The Test is not given during the summer. Take the Test no later than your second semester with sophomore status; transfer, certification, and graduate students should take the Test as soon as possible.

Keep alert for the Test of Writing Competency dates on D2L and WCU email! It is only offered once per semester & never in the summer.

Procedures:

- You do not need to register for the Test.
- Bring to the Test: blue/black pen(s), 8 ½ X 11 writing paper; dictionary, if desired.
- If you do not pass: Students who fail the Test of Writing Competency must confer with a member of the Teacher Education Committee during the same semester in which the Test was taken. They should retake the Test the following semester.
- Students whose Test of Writing Competency does not meet Department standards after two submissions will be required to do additional work in writing before they may take the Test a third time. This work may involve taking an offered course or doing independent study in writing supervised by a faculty member.

WRITING PORTFOLIOS

All students entering the program must submit a Writing Portfolio that illustrates their excellence in writing two semesters before student teaching. No summer submissions are accepted. Students who submit their Portfolios at least two semesters before student teaching will have plenty of time to resubmit a revised Portfolio the following semester in the event that the portfolio does not pass on the first attempt. Students who do not pass and have not submitted their Portfolios at least two semesters prior to student teaching may risk delay in student teaching and graduation.

Requirements

Portfolios that do not meet all of the following requirements will not be read:

- The Portfolio must be an 8 ½ X 11 manila folder with the writer's full name on the tab.
- All papers not written specifically for the Portfolio must be from college classes.
- All papers should be in their original form and include grades and comments. At least one paper must have all preceding notes and drafts. You may hand in printouts of papers that were electronically graded. If your instructor provided audio comments, you may send them to Dr. Renzi as an email attachment. Graded papers can come from any university or may be written specifically for the Portfolio. Ungraded papers written expressly for the Portfolio must include all drafts and notes. No more than two ungraded papers (inclusive of the reflective piece) may be submitted.
- The Portfolio must include one paper in each of three different modes in addition to a self-assessment.

The Three Modes:

1. Personal Essay includes personal autobiographical narrative as well as fiction, biography, and oral history. The personal essay tells a story generated by the writer, not gathered from a secondary source, and may take the form of memoir, literacy narrative, stories (not poems) from creative writing classes, or related type. Ask yourself: does this piece tell some kind of story about me?
2. Research Writing incorporates primary and secondary sources and a recognized citation system. It can be a literary research paper, from an English core class, from an ENG400, or even from a gen ed class.
3. Persuasive Writing, the purpose of which is to move readers to form or to change an opinion or to take a specific action. This includes literary analysis and other academic essays intended to prove a thesis as well as book reviews or other opinion-based writing.

The Self Assessment:

Self-Assessment is 3-4 pages long. It must describe:

- a. the assignment that prompted each piece of writing in the Portfolio,
- b. the process that produced each piece, and
- c. what each reveals about the writer's ability and/or growth as a writer.

It is not necessary to include drafts for this essay.

Procedures:

- Students should submit their Portfolios to the English Department secretary in Main 540. We do not accept late portfolios, so please observe carefully the due date and time specified.
- If you do not pass: Students whose Portfolios do not meet Department standards must confer with their readers, who will be listed when scores are posted, during the same semester in which the Portfolio was submitted. Students should resubmit their Portfolios during the following semester by the deadline specified. No Portfolios are evaluated during the summer.
- Students whose Portfolios do not meet Department standards after two submissions will be required to do additional work in writing before they may resubmit the Portfolio. This may involve taking a recommended course or doing independent study in writing supervised by a faculty member.

Remember to submit your Teacher Ed writing portfolio at least two semesters before you hope to student teach.

You must pass both the Test of Writing Competency & the Portfolio to attain a B.S.Ed. in Secondary English Education or achieve teaching certification at WCU.

DISPOSITIONAL EXPECTATIONS FOR B.S.Ed. AND POST-BACCALAUREATE CERTIFICATION STUDENTS

What are "dispositions"?

Our accrediting bodies require that the teachers we graduate not only have the academic skills to succeed but also the professional and behavioral "dispositions" (examples and expectations below). A well-developed set of professional skills and behavioral habits and attitudes speaks well of the school and the student. West Chester is committed to guiding students towards these dispositions, as well as graduating only those students who display them.

For more information on this topic, please speak with the English Department Teacher Education Coordinator, Department Chair, or Chair of the Department of Professional and Secondary Education in the School of Education.

Teacher Education Dispositions Monitoring Process

If a faculty member documents that a particular Teacher Education or pre-service student is having difficulty with one of the following dispositional expectations in a university or field-based course that faculty member is teaching, he/she will request a meeting with the student, share evidence of the concerns, hear the student's reason for behavior(s) of concern, make recommendations for improvement where appropriate, and follow up the meeting with a notice and action plan sent to the student and his/her department chair. The notice and action plan will be placed in the student's file in the department and will also be sent to the Teacher Education center. The student also may be required to meet with a committee of faculty within the major department, at the department's discretion, to

1. explore the nature of the concerns,
2. hear the student's reasons for the behavior(s) of concern, and
3. discuss corrective measures for remaining in the professional education sequence.

If the behavior of concern is not corrected satisfactorily, it may lead to the department's recommendation to deny formal admission to Teacher Education and/or advancement in the program. These recommendations would be forwarded to the Associate Dean of the College of Education for a final ruling. At this time, if the student chooses to appeal the ruling, the matter would come before the Teacher Education Student Appeals Committee, according to established protocol.

Dispositional Expectations

University-based:

1. Interaction with the instructor (promotes a professional and effective relationship with the instructor; willing to accept instructor written or verbal constructive feedback).
2. Interaction with other departmental, college, and support staff (maintains a professional relationship; shows respect; values the positions of faculty and support staff).
3. Personal appearance, mannerisms, and values (dressed appropriately to the situation and learning environment; conducts him/herself professionally in speech through appropriate verbal and non-verbal communication patterns, in personal habits, and in mannerisms; exhibits fair, consistent, and equitable treatment of all; respects civil rights and confidentiality of all; demonstrates civility and respect for diversity; sees the worth of others and dignity in others; works effectively with peers in collaborative ways).

4. Adherence to class policies (punctual; observes schedules, regulations, and expectations of the university-student relationship).
5. Attendance and responsibility (reliable, regular in attendance according to the standards set by the instructor and the university; fulfills course obligations; notifies appropriate persons/submits necessary documentation if absent; carries through on assigned responsibilities; focuses attending behaviors during class discussion and lecture presentations).
6. Level of preparedness (shows evidence of being well-prepared for class academically and attitudinally; shows willingness to approach tasks in an organized and skillful manner; demonstrates appropriate professional content in assignments).

Field-based:

1. Interaction with the site-based teacher (promotes a professional and effective relationship with the teacher(s); willing to accept written or verbal constructive feedback from the teacher(s)).
2. Interaction with other building staff (maintains a professional relationship; shows respect; values the positions of and is courteous to administrators and other building staff).
3. Personal appearance, mannerisms, and values (appropriately dressed and groomed to the school culture; conducts him/herself professionally in speech through appropriate verbal and non-verbal communication patterns, in personal habits, and in mannerisms; exhibits fair, consistent, and equitable treatment of all; respects civil rights and confidentiality of all; maintains confidentiality of school matters and child-specific information; demonstrates civility and respect for diversity; sees the worth and dignity of all; works effectively with school staff in collaborative ways).
4. Adherence to class policies (adheres to building and staff policies and procedures; punctual; observes schedules, regulations, and expectations of the university-district relationship).
5. Attendance and responsibility (reliable, regular in attendance and time on-site according to the standards set by the instructor in collaboration with the school partner; fulfills course field obligations; notifies appropriate persons/submits necessary documentation if absent; carries through on assigned responsibilities; shows good professional judgment).
6. Level of preparedness (shows evidence of being well-prepared for field duties academically and attitudinally; shows willingness to approach tasks in an organized and skillful manner; demonstrates enthusiasm for the students and the teaching process; uses time effectively; is able to adapt to changing situations in the classroom or school).

LITERATURE CATEGORIES FOR B.S.ED. STUDENTS ONLY
American, British, World

All B.S.Ed. students must take at least one course from each category below as they complete their tracks. This requirement overlays the track requirement, so you should choose your track courses with these requirements in mind. If you choose track courses carefully, you do not have to take three more classes to fulfill your American, British, and World literature requirement. This requirement exists to help prepare you for your Praxis II exams, which require familiarity with literature from all three categories. No film (FLM) classes are included here, because the Praxis II does not test film knowledge.

ENGLISH B.S.ED. PROGRAM ASSESSMENTS

The English department collects data to see how well our programs are delivering what we want them to teach. B.A. and B.S.Ed. students have different portfolio assignments, but all English majors MUST participate in the multiple-choice disciplinary literacy instrument and the Majors' Exit Survey.

What You Need to Know

As part of its ongoing commitment to a high quality undergraduate English major, the WCU English Department has developed three means of obtaining feedback about the program and how it helps students: 1) a multiple-choice disciplinary literacy instrument, 2) an exit survey and 3) a student portfolio.

The multiple-choice instrument and exit survey are to be completed by all graduating English majors. B.S. Ed. students have a separate portfolio requirement for their teacher education program (see page 21).

1. The Multiple-Choice Disciplinary Literacy Instrument:

All graduating English majors will complete the Multiple Choice Instrument. This instrument is used to assess the department's performance in achieving its undergraduate program goals. It is available on the English Majors' Forum site on D2L. You should complete the instrument during your final year at WCU; please allow 25 to 30 minutes to complete.

2. The English Majors' Exit Survey:

All graduating English majors are requested to fill out an exit survey in their senior year. The survey asks you about the quality of your education here and your satisfaction with the program. The survey is an opportunity to let us know how satisfied you are with the program and how we might improve it. The Exit Survey will be available on D2L every September; all graduating students must complete this survey!

TAKE YOUR ADVISING QUIZ!

Test your knowledge of how well you know your program by taking the quiz below that asks you about general education and your major. Answers can be found in the English Majors' Forum!

General Education & General Advising

1. Who is the primary steward of a student's academic career? What is the role of an English department advisor?
2. Why can't an interdisciplinary class count as one of your gen ed distributive area classes?
3. Does a creative writing seminar count as ENG400, the research seminar?
4. What should you do if you want to take classes at a community college and have them count at WCU?
5. What happens when you apply for graduation?
6. What is the minimum number of credits needed to graduate, by state mandate?
7. If you want to declare a minor, what should you do?
8. How many courses can you "double-dip" between an English major and an English minor? (I.e., how many classes can you use to satisfy the requirements of both programs?)

B.S.Ed. English (Writings & Literatures)

1. What criteria do you need in order to apply for FATE? Under what circumstances can you apply for "FATE delay"?
2. What is the field experience class sequence?
3. What is the difference between the "American Multi-Ethnic & World" category and the "World Literature" category in the handbook? How many courses are on both lists?
4. How many semesters should you set aside for taking the following methods courses: EDS 306, ENG 390, ENG 392, EDS 411, & EDS 412?
5. When should you submit your teacher ed writing portfolio?

PREPARING FOR GRADUATION

At least a year before you anticipate graduating, follow these steps:

1. Meet with your major and minor advisors at least a year prior to your anticipated graduation date to review unmet requirements. Your advisor can also look at gen ed requirements, but they are best reviewed by the Registrar.
2. Meet with your advisor during Drop-Add Week of your last semester so that you can check requirements one more time, when you still have time to adjust your schedule!
3. Count your credits! WCU cannot grant any degree without a minimum of 120 credits. (And just because you have 120 credits does not mean that you earn a degree; you also must satisfy the degree's course requirements.) The English's Department's B.A. is a 120-credit program. Because of accreditation requirements, our B.S.Ed. program requires 123 credits.
4. Visit your MyWCU page and click on "Apply for Graduation" to apply for graduation analysis (see the pages that follow for instructions). This triggers a request to the Registrar (as well as putting you on the department's list of prospective graduates at the end of your anticipated graduation semester). You should apply a year before you anticipate graduation (see English Majors' Forum for deadlines). This will permit you to make adjustments to your course selections in your final semesters that will prevent any delay in your graduation date.
5. The Registrar's Office will provide an evaluation of your general education requirements. After several weeks to a few months (depending on urgency and time of semester), the Registrar's Office will send you an email at your WCU email address only, with your evaluation report attached. You will be asked to come to the Registrar's office and review the evaluation with the designated Registrar staff member (determined by Major/College). Specific days/times are identified. You must check your WCU email account to learn of your graduation status!
6. Consult with any minor advisors to verify that you will complete all requirements of minor programs.
7. Graduation clearances for your major are done in the last week of classes. If there is a problem with unmet major requirements, this is when you will learn about them officially. That is why regular meetings with your advisor plus familiarity with this manual and your advising sheets are essential!

How NOT to graduate!

The three most common problems:

1. You do not have 120 credits. Common reasons: You can't count remedial classes or repeats. Using one class to meet two requirements leaves you 3 credits short. You took a 2-credit class instead of a 3-credit class. You didn't transfer in all of your transfer classes.
2. You have not completed the minor/concentration/department electives section of your B.A. advising sheet (see page 12 or 13 of this handbook).
3. You expected an interdisciplinary class to count for one of your gen ed distributive classes (it can't).

Please do not expect either the Registrar or the department to process your graduation request a couple of weeks before you intend to graduate.

Apply at least a year ahead of when you plan to graduate.

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

This information is primarily for those intending to go to graduate school; however, the general advice also applies to those seeking letters of recommendation for jobs and scholarships.

For most graduate school applications, you will need to include three letters of recommendation from individuals who can address your abilities, suitability, and promise for graduate study. For law, library/information sciences, and other professional school applications, having a recommender who is a professional in the field would work well. For applications to English or similar academic programs, you will probably want to have three letters from academics/faculty members in the field. In selecting faculty members to approach for a letter, you should consider who knows you and your work best. Those who know you well and have ties with a particular university or program to which you are seeking admission are particularly good to approach – as are those who are well-known in the field you wish to enter.

When asking someone to write on your behalf, be sure to phrase your request in a way that allows the person a gracious way to decline. For instance, a professor may not feel that he or she could write the strong letter you need to gain admission. Also, be sure to plan in advance. You should give your recommenders three week or more lead time before the letter is due.

As part of your planning, you should prepare a packet for your recommenders. This packet ideally should include:

- A list of programs to which you are applying – and the deadlines for the receipt of materials at each school.
- Any forms that should be included with the letter. Complete all portions of the form that ask for your personal information. Be sure to check the box that waives your right to see the letter. If you do not waive your rights to see the material, the letter will hold less weight.
- A draft of your personal statement or essay that you are sending with your application.
- A copy of your resumé.
- A statement in which you offer a brief summary of the work you completed for the course(s) you took with the recommender and the grades you earned. Such information will jog the recommender's memory and allow the person to add specific details that will enhance the letter. Feel free to include any information (course-related or otherwise) that you feel would help the recommender highlight your talents for graduate school, your maturity, and/or your reasons for selecting particular programs.
- URLs for the recommendation submission websites and any relevant instructions.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT MINOR PROGRAMS

The English Department offers programs in seven Minor programs that enable students to explore an academic area in depth without adding a second Major. These 18 credit programs expose students to skills and knowledge from a range of fields within the discipline of English Studies:

- African/African American Literature
- Business and Technical Writing
- Creative Writing
- Film Criticism
- Journalism
- Linguistics
- Literature

(One exception: English majors with a Literatures track cannot also take a minor in Literature.)

For detailed information on each minor, including an advising sheet with a list of required courses, visit the English Minors page on the English Department website.

If you are interested in enrolling in one of these minors, please visit the WCU Registrar's forms page, and download an "Add Minor" form. Then submit the completed form, with all necessary signatures, to the Program Coordinator in Main 506.

INTERNSHIPS

Increase your Professional Knowledge and Experience

The English Department encourages all of its B.A. majors to pursue internships. The advantages are numerous: internships enable you to apply your reading and writing skills to real workplace situations, make informed decisions about your career plans, and build valuable contacts. Our students have completed an exciting array of internships – in publishing, broadcasting, event planning, marketing, public relations, journalism, social media, political campaigns, legal research, environmental advocacy, and more – both on and off campus.

Maybe you know exactly what you want to do after you graduate—or maybe you have no clue. An internship can help you explore a professional area to help you make such decisions, to help you test how you apply your reading and writing skills in work situations, and to allow you to build professional connections. Most important perhaps, completing an internship tops the list of what employees weigh heavily in hiring recent graduates.¹ If you're in a major or minor English Department program, you will be eligible for an internship, once you have earned 80 credits. You owe it to yourself and your future to investigate the many possible internship experiences the English department makes available to its majors.

INTERNSHIP COORDINATORS

English majors: Prof. Eleanor Shevlin (Main 548, eshevlin@wcupa.edu)

Business and Technical Writing minor: Prof. Ashley Patriarca (Main 412, apatriarca@wcupa.edu)

Journalism minor: Prof. Chuck Bauerlein (Main 534, cbauerlein@wcupa.edu)

INTERNSHIP PLACEMENTS

Students have completed both on- and off-campus internships. They have done editorial work and proofreading; worked on marketing and social media campaigns; written press-releases, designed newsletters, brochures, and web pages; created and conducted questionnaires—among many other activities. Recent placements include Philadelphia-area publishers, local media, public-relations organizations, Philadelphia sports teams, corporate groups, law offices, nationally-based volunteer and nonprofit entities, and archives, museums and libraries, and select campus placements.

Before meeting with the appropriate internship coordinator listed above, be sure to explore the many internship possibilities available to you by:

1. reviewing the internship section of the English Majors Forum on D2L;
2. visiting WCU's Twardowski Career Development Center;
3. researching a business or organization you might like to intern for.

Once you've done this homework, you can then meet with the internship coordinator to discuss your options.

¹ Chronicle of Higher Education and American Public Media's Marketplace Study, December 2012.

INTERNSHIP POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Any student seeking an English internship must be in the process of completing either a Major or Minor in the English Department. The student will be permitted to undertake an internship under the supervision of the English Department only after he or she has met all of the following requirements:

1. Accumulated at least 80 semester hours.
2. Completed at least 12 semester hours in courses in the English Major or an English Minor.
3. Watched the PowerPoint overview of the English Department's internship program (posted on the English Majors' Forum on D2L).
4. Met with his or her advisor to obtain information about internship eligibility.
5. Met with the appropriate internship coordinator (see contact information above) to discuss the student's internship plans, search, and application materials.

The student should come to this meeting with a draft resumé and two writing samples (the samples may be academic papers or other written work that the student is particularly proud of).

6. Submitted the completed Internship Agreement form, with all signatures, to his or her faculty supervisor by the specified deadline. (The faculty supervisor will then submit the form to Dr. Shevlin.) Fall and Summer internship forms are due by the end of the Spring semester. Spring semester internship forms are due by the end of the Fall semester. No student will be registered for ENG 395—the official course designated for internships—until the completed form has been submitted.

Any exceptions to these terms must be approved by the appropriate internship coordinator listed above.

INTERNSHIP ACTION SEQUENCE

Please note the established sequence of actions for the internship program:

1. Qualifying students must first apply for the internship (see steps above).
2. Upon approval and submission of completed paperwork, students will be registered for the internship under the course designation ENG 395. The internship sections are typically created by the English Department scheduler during final exam period or shortly afterwards. The scheduler will enroll you in ENG 395 when he or she creates the course for you. You should check your schedule before the semester starts to ensure that ENG 395 is showing up on your course list and that it reflects the proper number of credits.
3. Students then will do the internship.

Please also note that no internships will be retroactively approved. In other words, you can't first do the work and then apply to have it count as an internship.

ADDITIONAL RULES REGARDING INTERNSHIPS

A student may complete no more than 12 total credit hours of internship credit over the course of his or her undergraduate career.

1. Any student who wishes to take more than 9 hours of internship credit in a single semester must obtain approval from the internship coordinator and submit an application and an academic transcript (all in the semester preceding the internship).
2. The number of credits to be earned during an internship will be determined by the internship coordinator by applying a ratio of 40 hours of work for each hour of academic credit (for example, a student who worked 120 hours would receive three credit hours).
3. The internship credits for English majors can be applied to the 18-credit "Minor, Concentration, or Department Electives" section of the student's advising sheet; students should consult with their academic advisor for guidance.
4. It is the student's responsibility to demonstrate that he or she has met the academic requirements for an internship.

INTERNSHIP WORK REQUIREMENTS (to be fulfilled during the actual internship)

The minimum requirements for work performed during an internship are as follows:

1. Interns must perform the required number of hours doing contracted tasks at the internship site.
2. Interns must maintain regular contact with their faculty internship advisor, meeting at least three times over the course of the semester.
3. Interns must maintain a collection of samples of their work throughout the internship.
4. Interns must confer regularly with their on-site internship supervisor.
5. At the end of the internship, interns must submit a portfolio of their work to their faculty supervisor and an analytical report (5-7 pages, minimum 1,300 words) detailing the internship experience, including what the student learned and gained from it. (Note: Business & Technical Writing Minors should consult with their Minor advisor for specific requirements regarding their portfolio.)

GET INVOLVED!

Activities of Special Interest to English Majors

Want to get involved, in order to hone your reading and writing skills, to express yourself, to get published, to prepare yourself for a career, or to share ideas and experiences with other students interested in writing and publishing? Here are some of the activities the English Department offers. Make sure you take advantage of them!

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

The CWC offers students the chance to honor their craft as creative writers in a positive and nurturing environment.

Contact: Dr. Christopher Merkner, Main 203, cmerkner@wcupa.edu
Prof. Luanne Smith, Main 536, lsmith@wcupa.edu

DAEDALUS

Daedalus, an interdisciplinary magazine of the arts, is a showcase for the work of student writers, artists, and photographers. Any student may submit work to the editors for possible publication.

Contact: Prof. Meghan Muller, Main 411, mmuller@wcupa.edu

EAPSU CONFERENCE

The English Association of the Pennsylvania State Universities (EAPSU) is a regional professional organization whose members come from the faculty and students of the 14 state university English Departments in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE). EAPSU's spring conference gives English students across PASSHE a venue for presenting scholarly work.

Contact: Dr. Cheryl Wanko, Main 503, cwanko@wcupa.edu

ENGLISH CLUB

The English majors' student organization engages in a number of activities. It has hosted open mike nights and has published Literati, featuring undergraduate poetry, short stories, art, etc.

Contact: Dr. Timothy Ray, Main 529, tray@wcupa.edu
Dr. Kristine Ervin, Main 312, kervin@wcupa.edu

NCTE CHAPTER

The English Department hosts a student affiliate chapter of the National Council of Teachers of English. Members meet to discuss topics of professional interest and organize events and programming. Recent activities include tutoring at a local middle school; such experience is helpful for prospective teachers and can aid in building a resume.

Contact: Dr. Mary Buckelew, 210 East Rosedale, mbuckelew@wcupa.edu,
Dr. Pauline Schmidt, Main 312, pschmidt@wcupa.edu

PRE-LAW SOCIETY

This legally oriented organization is one of the oldest functioning academic clubs at WCU. The club familiarizes students who are interested in law or the legal field with information and services concerning the legal field. Events or programs sponsored by the Pre-Law Society include Kaplan LSAT Test Drive, managing test anxiety, speakers from law schools, speakers (attorneys) in any field of law, visits to law schools, and discussions on areas of legal importance. Membership is open to all students of the University community who are interested in law, regardless of their professional plans.

Advisor: Dr. Sandra Tomkowicz, AND312D, stomkowicz@wcupa.edu

THE QUAD

The student newspaper of West Chester University is published by a student staff with a faculty member as advisor. In addition to its primary role of disseminating news of campus events, The Quad also provides students with practical experience in reporting, editing, and photography, as well as in advertising and the business side of newspaper publishing. An apprenticeship on The Quad could be an important step on the way to a career in journalism.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta is the English Majors' Honor Society, and offers opportunities for scholarly exploration in the form of publications and conferences. Students are selected for admission to this society based on their academic performance. Students are notified of their eligibility for this Society.

WCUR

The campus radio station at West Chester University offers experience in all phases of radio broadcasting, from on-air activities to radio production, management, and advertising. Operated entirely by students, WCUR offers practical work opportunities in a learning atmosphere.

Contact: Dr. Art Smith, Merion Science Center 234, asmith2@wcupa.edu.

WCU WRITING CENTER

The WCU Writing Center, located in Lawrence Center 214, is always looking for students with good writing skills who are interested in tutoring their peers. Students who volunteer at the Writing Center must attend several training sessions, enroll in "Writing Tutoring" ENG397, and take their commitment to the Center seriously. Such experience is helpful for those who want to teach writing or learn more about writing; it can also aid in building a resume. Graduate Students can take ENG611 to learn about tutoring in more depth and to gain more experience at the Center.

Contact: Dr. Margaret Ervin, Main 535, mervin@wcupa.edu .

WRITING ZONES 12.5

A partnership between WCU and local high school writing centers, Writing Zones 12.5 trains university students to serve as writing mentors for high school students with the aim of bridging the gap between high school and college writing. University "peers" guide high school students toward an awareness of their own writing processes as they work on individual writing projects together. More broadly, the program attempts to use high school writing centers as a gateway to higher education, providing mentoring and encouragement for students unsure of their college readiness. Working as a Writing Zones mentor is a great way for interested WCU students to gain hands-on professional experience and contribute to local communities.

Contact: Dr. H. Bernard Hall, Main 203, hhall@wcupa.edu.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

Our students work frequently with individual faculty members on research and creative projects. Here are some of the research opportunities available to you as an English major. For more information, please visit the Student Opportunities page on the English Dept. website.

Summer Undergraduate Research Institute

Summer Undergraduate Research Institute (SURI) aims to enrich the undergraduate experience and prompt students to grow beyond consumers of information into creators of knowledge. Applications are typically due early in the spring semester for projects to be undertaken in Summer Session I. In the past, students have received a stipend of $1,500 and free room and board while having the opportunity to pursue a project of their own making and work closely with a faculty mentor.

Contact: Office of Research and Sponsored Programs at <http://www.wcusuri.com/>.

West Chester Center for Book History

West Chester Center for Book History is dedicated to providing a multidimensional, interdisciplinary forum for the history and study of the written word.

Contact: Dr. Eleanor Shevlin, Main 548, eshevlin@wcupa.edu.

PA Literary and Cultural Heritage Map

The Literary and Cultural Heritage Map of Pennsylvania offers undergraduates the opportunity to conduct original research, edit, fact-check, update, and write new copy for writers and cultural figures associated with the Commonwealth. Students are recognized for editing or authoring the entries, so the projects offer them an opportunity for publication.

Contact: Dr. Eleanor Shevlin, Main 548, eshevlin@wcupa.edu.

AFFILIATIONS

The organizations and programs listed below all bear strong ties to the English Department. Many are directed—or were founded—by English Department faculty; others operate under the aegis of English or benefit from especially strong participation by English faculty and students. In all cases, these affiliations promote values central to English Studies, enrich the learning experiences of our students, and contribute to the cultural life of the university and the larger community. To read more about each, please go to the Affiliations page on the English Dept. website.

English Alumni

The English Alumni page keeps our graduates informed of exciting developments in the English Department; helps them stay in touch with former classmates and faculty; and fosters networking opportunities between current majors and alumni.

WCU Poetry Center

The WCU Poetry Center promotes the study and appreciation of poetry, particularly traditional poetic forms. Founded in 2000, the Center offers a diverse slate of activities and programs—including a prestigious annual Poetry Conference—that helps to expand its mission of bringing poetry to an ever-widening audience.

College Literature: A Journal of Critical Literary Studies

College Literature has long been one of the premier literary-studies journals in North America, publishing original and innovative scholarly research. Founded in 1974, the journal has its editorial offices at WCU.

Teaching English in the Two-Year College

Teaching English in the Two-Year College is an NCTE-affiliated journal that publishes theoretical and practical articles on composition, technical and business communication, literature, language, the profession of English, and related topics. It is edited by English professor Jeff Sommers.

University Writing Center

The University Writing Center offers writing free writing consultation services to all members of the WCU community. The Center is directed by English faculty and regularly employs English majors and graduate students as writing tutors.

Pennsylvania Writing and Literature Project

The Pennsylvania Writing & Literature Project (PAWLP) is one of the oldest and largest sites of the National Writing Project. Founded in 1980, PAWLP works in multi-dimensional ways to improve the teaching of writing and literature in schools and communities.

Frederick Douglass Institute

WCU's Frederick Douglass Institute seeks to advance multicultural studies across the university curriculum and sponsors research, programs, awards, and teaching that honor the legacy of Frederick Douglass. The Institute was founded in 1995 by Emeritus Professor of English C. James Trotman.

Digital Humanities

English Department faculty are currently in the process of developing a Digital Humanities curriculum that includes new courses, events, and programs designed to introduce students to this important new frontier in humanistic studies.

N/T/G Research Group

The National/Transnational/Global Cultures Research Group is a forum for faculty and graduate students who share research interests in the global dimensions of literary and cultural studies.

West Chester Center for Book History

The West Chester Center for Book History, founded by English professor Eleanor Shevlin, sponsors courses, workshops, talks, seminars, book-making, and a graduate certificate in publishing, all as part of an effort to provide a multidimensional, interdisciplinary forum for the history and study of the written word.

Women's and Gender Studies Program

WCU's Women's & Gender Studies Program shares with the English Department a commitment to empowering students to challenge preconceptions about race, class, gender, and sexual orientation. English professors have served as past WGS program directors, and many teach for the program as affiliated faculty.

Youth Empowerment and Urban Studies (YES) Program

Created by English Professor Hannah Ashley, the interdisciplinary YES Minor offers students across campus the opportunity to work with youth in urban settings in hands-on, community-engaged ways that can help to bring about real social change.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES FOR ENGLISH MAJORS

The English Department recognizes that most graduates will be concerned with finding employment relevant to their course of study and personal interests. Advisors can help students make decisions in this area. The English Majors' Forum on D2L offers information on the wide range of careers available to English majors, advice on resumé writing, sample interview questions, applying to graduate school, teaching abroad, and more. Click on the "Career and Graduate Info" toolbar. The University's Twardowski Career Development Center at Lawrence Center 225, <http://www.wcupa.edu/services/stu.car/>, helps students initiate job searches and can also help counsel you.

In the spring semester the Department hosts an annual "What Can You Do with an English Degree?" panel in which three or four alumni/alumnae return to campus to relate how their WCU English degree has helped them succeed professionally; a speed-networking event in which students have the opportunity to meet one-on-one with alumni follows the panel discussion. Over the years, many of these panels have been taped and are available for viewing. For more information, contact Dr. Eleanor Shevlin, Main 548, eshevlin@wcupa.edu.

Careers for Graduates with B.A. in English

Graduates with a B.A. in English are qualified for graduate studies in literature and related fields of interest: linguistics, law, communications, journalism, film, and many other humanistic disciplines. With experience and additional education, graduates may teach in colleges and universities. With certification, they may also teach in secondary schools. Careers in journalism, publishing, editing, public relations, advertising, marketing, government, television, radio, technical writing, and business administration are options for English majors.

Think about these possibilities:

Admissions Counselor	Insurance Representative	Program Developer
Advertising	Journalist	Proofreader
Archivist	Librarian	Proposal/Grant Writer
Attorney	Literacy Instructor	Public Affairs Officer
Banking	Literary Agent	Public Relations Specialist
Business Admin/Consulting	Lobbyist	Researcher/Research
Community Services Director	Marketing Representative	Sales Representative
Not-for-Profit Organizations	Media Planner	Speech Writer
Creative Director	Medical Writer	Technical Writer
Editor	Multi-Media Designer	Travel Agent
Freelance Writer	Paralegal	Underwriter
Government Worker	Production Coordinator	Web Writer

Want to go to graduate school for an M.A. or Ph.D. in English, Education, TESL, Marketing, Management or other fields?

To pursue graduate studies, you need to take the GRE (Graduate Record Examination) for programs in English and related fields. If you plan to apply to graduate school within five years after graduation, you should probably take the GRE at the conclusion of your senior year. Other programs (such as MBAs) require other exams. Ask your advisor, and see <http://www.gre.org/splash.html>. Please also look for special workshops the department offers, typically in the fall, on planning to attend graduate school. If you're interested in Teaching English as a Second Language, please speak with the department director of WCU's MA-TESOL program, Dr. Innhwa Park, Mitchell 232, ipark@wcupa.edu.

Want to go to law school?

To apply to law school, you need to take the LSAT (Law School Aptitude Test). If you plan to attend law school, you should take the LSAT during your senior year. Ask your advisor, and see <http://www.lsac.org/>. Also consult with the University Pre-Law advisor: Dr. Sandra Tomkowicz, stomkowicz@wcupa.edu.

Interested in earning a certificate or graduate degree in publishing or editing?

As of Fall 2015, the English department is offering a Graduate Certificate Program in Publishing. (<http://www.wcupa.edu/arts-humanities/english/gradAcademics.aspx>). Contact: Dr. Eleanor F. Shevlin, Main 548, eshevlin@wcupa.edu.

Career Information for B.S.Ed. Majors

With an Instructional I Certificate (temporary), a graduate with a B.S. in Education will be qualified to teach English in any secondary school in Pennsylvania. Numerous states have reciprocal agreements with Pennsylvania, so that a graduate may teach in any of them as well. Graduates should contact the State Board of Education in the state in which they would like to teach (if not PA) to learn about the specific certification requirements of that state. State certification requirements will vary; additional tests or college courses may be required. With experience and additional education, a graduate may qualify for college and university teaching. With additional training, a graduate may become a reading specialist, a teacher of special education, a teacher of English as a second language, an English supervisor, a curriculum coordinator, a guidance counselor, or a school administrator.

LITERATURE CATEGORIES FOR B.S.ED. STUDENTS ONLY
AMERICAN, BRITISH, WORLD

All B.S.Ed. students must take at least one course from each category below as they complete their tracks. This requirement overlays the track requirement, so you should choose your track courses with these requirements in mind. If you choose track courses carefully, you do not have to take three more classes to fulfill your American, British, and World literature requirement. This requirement exists to help prepare you for your Praxis II exams, which require familiarity with literature from all three categories. No film (FLM) classes are included here, because the Praxis II does not test film knowledge.
